We copy the following corres pondence from the Providence Journal of Tuesday; it speaks for highly The character of the Hon. Robert B. Crans ten is too well known in this State, to require any comments from the ; if the character of Lieut, Gov. William Brach Lawrence bee not been thoroughly understood, hitherto, we feel confident that, after this, there will be no doubt in the mind of any man, of ordinary compreliencies, on the subject. The tone of Mr. Cranston's communications is manly, open and tharacteristic; that of the replies of Lieut. Gov. Lawrence is pettilogging, entaking and cowardly, and entirely characteristic of the man, whom we thorsughly know, and know all about in his varied adventures for the last twenty-five years, in New York, and whose littleness, in the most little sense of that word, we have slightly shown up ever since he intruded himself upon the people of Rhode Island, one year ago .-

In this connection, we will slate that so gross and insulting was the language made use of in the Senate, by Licui. Governor Lawrence in regard to Mr Cranston, that Gov. Allen, the leader of Lawrence's own party, called him to or der, and would not allow him to proceed in such remarks.

Read the letters and judge of the men, and the matter in issue.

From the Providence Journal . . . Mon. Mobert E. Cramson and Gov. William Beach Lawrence.

The following correspondence will before the Board of Canyassers of Newport, releved to by Gov. Lawrence, friend of Mr. Craneton, resident in Ne ort, who was present at the Board, no the needency of these proceed ring the pendency of these proceedings, has furnished the following abstract of them, which Mr. Crunston believes to be correct:

At the time the Hon. William Beach Lawrence was seminated for Lieutenan' Governor, in February, 1851, his name was not on the registry list of the lows of Newport. This fact was tale was of Newport. This fact was stated in the Newport News, and ground taken in that paper, that Lawrence was not a citizen of this State; according to the requirements of the Constitution and Election Law, Mr. Lawrence or our sisteness. Law, fair, Lawrence, or his friends, simmediately thereupon proceeded to the town clera's office and caused his name to be entered on the registry. At the first meeting of the Board of Canyassers in March, 1851, to correct the list, when Lawrence's name was reached, Mr. R. B. Cranston movwas reashed, Mr. R. B. Cranston moved that it he stricken off, as Mr. L.; was a citizen of New York; that he (L.) owned property in Newport and pissed his summers there, as many other gentleman did, but that his actual legal residence was in New York. Mr Cranston further stated, that he had conversed with a gentleman, who had seen a record in the effect of the Surragate of the city of New York, wherein Mr. Lawrence made eath, the July previous, that he was a resident of New York, and that he (Mr. C.) understood that proper evidence of this lact would be obtained and presented at the next meetings. and presented at the next meeting of the Board. After Mr. Cranston had made this statement, Mr. Lawrence port since November, 1849; and here, at that time, the proceedings before the Board terminated.

At the next meeting of the Board for At the scal secening of the Board of canvaning the registry, Mr. Cranston presented a copy of the record, to which he had alluded at the previous meeting, showing that Mr. Lawrence had made such, to his residence in New York the July previous. In the discussion which ensued upon this subject, Mr. Crans an aid that Lawrence and Mr. Cross on said that Lawrence Mr. Cross on and that Lawrence and bis concept had attempted to intimidate the Board in that Hall, by threatening them with a proceeding, if they struck his (Mr. L's) name from the list; and, further, that the friends of Mr. Lawrence had made improper efforts out-of-doors for the same object, and had object for the same object, and had object for the same object and had one. doors, for the same object, and had ob-tained a letter from the President of the Beard, declaring that he and his fellow mambers had even the document presented by Mr. Crimston, and foun-nothing in them to change their opini ons : that the lutter from the Presiden (a gentleman, by the way, of Locofoce politics) had been published also, in the Previdence Post.

When this statement was made by Mr. Craneton the other members of the Board, severally, denied that they had ever so expressed themselves, or that the President had any authority for ima rebuke, &c.

Mr. Cranston was entirely respectfuland decorous in all his remarks in relation to the Board, and towards Mr. Lawrence himself. He had no agency whatever in procuring the record evidence from New York. This evidence was discovered by another gentleman, and Mr. Cranston knew bottling of it until after copies had been sent for.—The charge therefore in Mr. Lowrence's letter, that C. had rent his emissaries on ter, that C. had gent his emissaries on this errand, is entirely unfounded.

office, on shuring trobanged, the most fore reply to it through the same chan, sel, your communication of that date, which, divested of all extrinsio matter, in substance, inquires whether, wher the subject of the appointment of the Commissioners on the Massachusetts boundary was under discussion in the Senate, (and for one of which you were named,) I gave it is my opinion that you did not possess the requisite legal, literary and scientific attainments for the Senate of Sen office in question. Your own letter shows that whatever was said by me was in the regular discharge of, my do. ties as a Senator; not are any words cited, as coming from me, that in any wise involve your personal bonor, or your character, as a gentleman, and if I did really entertain the views which you you could not be authorized to altertion need scarcely remark that it was not only my right to express them, but that, looking to the deep interests of the State in the selection of competent ngents, and to the obligations imposed by my official oath I should have been recreant to every duty, it I had not fearlessly and frankly declared them. Nor am I aware, as what I am alleged to have said, was not the statement of a fact, the truth or latechood of which detact, the truth of lanchood of which her pended on my individual testimony, but an opinion, the inaccuracy of which, if I had formed un inadequate cetimate of your qualifications, would be readily corrected by the people to whom it has been triumphantly announced that you are well known by a long course of publie services, that any injury can have accrued to you from the performance of an act of duty by me. Be that as it may, and whatever might be my dispo-sition under ordinary circumstances, to avow or disavow every act connected with my official duties, there are, in your case, reasons why I should not waive my legislative immunity, or af ford you any explanation of my course in the General Assembly, at least till I shall receive a full reparation for injuries, not growing out of the expression of your opinions, as to which, whenever untered, I shall never interfere, but from the imputation of stave offences, which the imputation of grave offences, which can only rest on the establishment of facts, and which, if true, would tender me not only unworthy of public confidence, but of all cocial position.

You cannot have forgotten that, though previous thereto, there had only between us the interchange of o dinary salutation in our casual inter-course from the montent of my selection of my present office by my Democratic fellow-citizens, you have left no means untried to induce me, by every species of persecution, to abundon the State which I had selected as my domicil for the remainder of my life. Your foul imputations of perjury were not withdrawn, notwithstanding the repeated adjudinations of the Town Council on the validity of my claim, but after the canwasers had proved themselves inaccessible to all partisen influences, you had the effrontery to involve them and me in a common charge of bribery and corruption, which though you allowed me in a common charge of bribery and corruption, which, though you allowed yourself to be publicly rehaked for it at the time, you have never had; the temetity to intempt to establish, nor the manifess to retract. Under these circumstances, I cannot admit that, irrespective of the considerations of legisladye tumbenty, which in established for the benefit, not of the représentative, but of benefit, not of the representative, but of the constituent, and should therefore not be waived on elight grounds, I am, as a gentleman, under any obligation to respend to your communication, especially while grievances of mine of a lar more rerious import remain unredressed.

4 Newport, March, 5th, 1852.

Your letter of the 1st institute recieved on the evening of that day; and "divesting it of all extrinsic matter," it amounts to a refusal to avow or deny what you are charged with having sale in relation to me, in your speech of the 20th off. You intended yourself behind your speech of the 20th off.. You intened yourself beams your legislative privilege, to, protect yourself from responsibility,—and yet you attempt, by a sort of special pleading, to justify, all that you did say, on the accasion referred to in my former note to you—and talk of the solemnity. his character.

I now desire to know, sir, if this be a note to you,—and talk of the solenning correct report of your speech, as lar us of an eath—the interest of Rhode is of an coth—the interest of tenoue is-land, which you seem to think was in your special keeping—the importance of appointing Commissioners,—when you could have had as I believe, no earthy object in presenting your resolution. except to luminit you some kind of an opportunity to attack me; and it was no doubt so considered by the Senate, when they struck out the names; of the Commissioners, and authorised the Covernor to appoint,—and the House very properly had the whole subject on the tuble and suffered it to die. You on,—that i man improperty masuren you, a year ugo, before the Board of Canvaetiers, when we necessary mastring of a year ugo, before the Board of Canvas-inne, when we occupied a position of equality in the right to be heard before the Canvassers. Aye, Sir, that is the gist of your resolution. Your statement of what I said and of my acts, on that accasion, is mostly, a from misrepresen-tation; you put werds into my boothat which I never used, such as "perjury," "bribery" and "corruption," applied to the Board of Canvassers; per did I sub-mit to a rebuke from any one-but, on mit to a rebuke from any one, but, on the contrary, the rebuke, came from me, when I linted in your presence and hearing, that I was exercising my rights as he cliften, and that I held myself responsible for my conduct.

If you felt so aggrioved, why have you bottled up your wrath a whole year when you have met almost every day in the public streets? Why ponsible for my conduct. have you not called on me for an expla-nation, or for satisfaction? Indeed, Sir why do you not call now and demand satisfaction for all your griefs, whether real of imaginary? I will not plead the Statute or Limitations,—nor legislative privilege, for I have mone, and would scorn to avail myself of it, if I had.

A high-minded, honorable man, placed in your situation, would have felt that his lips were sented by the fact and that I was not present at the time of your attack, and could not have replied if I had been, not being a member of the body to which you belong,

I must here take leave of you for the present after pronouncing you, as I now do, a base minded standerer and coward.
